Fürstenfeldbruck is located just 30 km west of Munich and can be reached on the S8 commuter train. An attractive pathway from the S-Bahn train station takes you to the monastery in ten minutes. The Stadtmuseum is located in the former agricultural buildings of the monastery.

If you come by car, follow the signs to Kloster Fürstenfeld.

The Baroque monastery church is also worth a visit. Interesting events take place regularly on the monastery grounds, which are used as a cultural centre for the region.

With its cosy inns and beer gardens Fürstenfeld is a favourite starting point and destination for varied walking and cycling routes along the Amper river-side.
